TRANSGLOBE ENERGY CORPORATION ANNOUNCES THE SIGNING OF A SHARE PURCHASE AGREEMENT TO ACQUIRE CEPESA EGYPT SA B.V.

TSX: "TGL" & NASDAQ: "TGA"

Calgary, Alberta, July 3, 2012 – TransGlobe Energy Corporation ("TransGlobe" or the "Company") announces the signing of a Share Sale and Purchase Agreement ("SPA") to acquire the shares of Cepsa Egypt SA B.V. ("Cepsa Egypt"), a wholly owned subsidiary of COMPAÑÍA ESPAÑOLA DE PETRÓLEOS, S.A.U. (a company registered in Spain) ("Cepsa") subject to customary closing conditions. All dollar values are expressed in United States dollars unless otherwise stated.

The transaction highlights include:

- Cepsa Egypt owns a 50% working interest in and is Operator of the South Alamein Concession;
- At Closing (July 2012), the Share Sale and Purchase Agreement with Cepsa replaces the previously announced (June 29, 2011) Sale and Purchase agreement with Cepsa Egypt to acquire the South Alamein assets;
- $3 million plus inventory, fixed assets and working capital;
- All-cash deal, effective July 1, 2012;
- 50% working interest in the South Alamein concession, which combined with the interests acquired from EP Energy LLC acquisition (June 7, 2012) will increase TransGlobe's interest to 100%;
- Near term appraisal / development of the oil discovery well, Boraq-2X, which tested a combined 1,700 barrels of oil per day ("Bopd") of light oil from two zones;
- The Company has identified 6 drillable exploration prospects developed from 3-D seismic which covers the entire South Alamein Concession area.

South Alamein, Arab Republic of Egypt (100% working interest, TransGlobe operated)

TransGlobe Petroleum International Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of TransGlobe Energy Corporation, has entered into a share purchase agreement to acquire Cepsa Egypt from Cepsa for $3.0 million plus inventory, fixed assets and working capital adjustments, effective July 1, 2012.

On June 7, 2012 the Company acquired a company from EP Energy LLC which holds a 50% interest in the South Alamein Concession Agreement, under a Production Sharing regime ("Concession").

Cepsa Egypt holds the remaining 50% working interest in and operates the South Alamein Concession. When acquired, the Company will hold a 100% working interest in the South Alamein Concession.

The South Alamein concession is located onshore in the Western Desert of Egypt and includes portions of the prolific Alamein and Tiba basins. The current gross size of this exploration concession is 1,423 square kilometers (355,832 acres) following a 25% relinquishment of non-prospective acreage on April 4, 2012. The concession is in the final 2-year exploration phase (April 4, 2014 expiry). The concession includes an oil discovery well, Boraq-2X. The primary Cretaceous zone tested at a rate of 800 to 1,323 Bopd of 34 API oil with no water and a 13% pressure drawdown. Test rates are not necessarily indicative of long-term performance but it is anticipated that when combined with secondary tested zones within the Cretaceous, the well should be capable of initial production of approximately 1,700 Bopd. Initial work by TransGlobe will focus on appraisal and development of the Boraq-2X oil discovery, which includes drilling at least two appraisal wells and readying the Boraq-2X well for production. The Boraq-2X discovery is close to existing infrastructure which should reduce development time and capital. An extensive 3-D seismic acquisition program was acquired over the entire South Alamein concession area. TransGlobe's technical team has initially identified six, drill-ready exploration prospects on the concession.

The Company has scheduled a drilling rig to commence an initial three well drilling program in the Boraq area late in the third quarter of 2012. Timing is subject to closing the Cepsa Egypt purchase and receiving the necessary well approvals from the government of Egypt.

This transaction is expected to close by late July 2012 and is subject to customary closing conditions. TransGlobe cannot make assurances that it will successfully close the subject transaction.

TransGlobe Energy Corporation is a Calgary-based, growth-oriented oil and gas exploration and development company focused on the Middle East/North Africa region with production operations in the Arab Republic of Egypt and the Republic of Yemen. TransGlobe's common shares trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol TGL and on the NASDAQ Exchange under the symbol TGA.
